Designation of flood area could delay municipal zoning by-law two years

Plans to update and rewrite the Anson, Hindon and Minden township zoning by-law is expected to face a major challenge by the Ministry of Natural Resources. A ministry planning expert, Warren Evershad appeared at the September 9 meeting of council to lay the ministry's position before the councillors.

Evershad said the ministry objects in particular to the area defined as hazard land in the draft plan submitted for consideration by the municipality's consultants Proctor and Redfern. The map which accompanied the draft document designated an area which appeared to be ten to fifteen feet back from the current edge of the Gull River and Beaver Creek as the hazard area in Minden Village.

Under an Ontario Cabinet policy, and designated as hazard areas due to flooding must have tight development restrictions placed on them.

Evershad said he felt the area outlined by the consultants may not accurately reflect the land in Minden which would be subject to flooding if the river spilled over its banks. The ministry spokesman said he realized the implications of what he was saying for present and future development in the community, but noted that the provincial Cabinet has set the policy for potential flood areas and the ministry is charged with ensuring the policy is adhered to.

Under the policy, the Cabinet has set as a benchmark the serious flooding which took place in Timmins in 1961 as a result of a lengthy rainstorm. The policy states that any area (in Minden Village for example) which would be flooded if the same storm which struck Timmins were to hit here, must be designated as part of the hazard zone.

The announcement that the ministry planned to lodge a formal complaint before the Ontario Municipal Board if the draft zoning document was presented for approval, virtually brought the meeting to a halt. Councillors, along with Tony Holmes of the consulting firm and Pat Vanini of the Ministry of Housing had been plodding through the details of the draft making minor changes and adjustments in anticipation the document would be presented to the public later this autumn for approval.

"Does the line marked on that map," Evershad asked referring to the zoning by-law, "represent the true hazard zone? Is the council saying that is the area of protection it wants to provide its citizens? All I'm asking you to do is recognize the fact that this area could be subject to a storm of the magnitude which struck Timmins." The spokesman said an engineering study would be the only way of determining how much flooding would occur in Minden in that case.

Could cause delay

"You realize of course, that by requesting an engineer's report you are delaying the completion of this zoning by-law by up to two years," Councillor Ed Pergolas commented. Evershad said he was aware of the implications. Evershad said, "The provincial government has taken it upon itself to protect its citizens to the level of the Timmins storm."

Dick Schell, by-law enforcement officer, suggested that some of that responsibility should rest with the local community.

Pergolas noted that people have been paying taxes on vacant land within what could be the hazard area for years. "What value is that land to them now after all these years if we bring in a policy which prohibits any further development," Pergolas also noted the province, through the Ministry of Environment, undertook a major development in this community a number of years ago in the installation of the water and sewer system. He questioned whether such activity was not encouraging development in the hazard area and in direct contravention to the Cabinet policy.

Vanini responded by noting the flood policy was only adopted in 1979. She pointed out that there are larger municipalities which face the same problem as Minden.

Evershad pointed out that the engineering study which he feels is required would be funded by the federal and provincial government at a 90% rate. However, he also noted that once the study has been completed, those areas designated as hazard zones will have to fall under the building restrictions as outlined by the province. Evershad stated that the province can relax some of those restrictions provided certain precautions are taken in new construction. However, before the restrictions can be eased, the municipality would have to have an official plan, another process which would take years to complete.

Reeve Lloyd Walker, obviously dismayed by the turn of events commented, "Everything is going to come to a standstill. People might as well drown as starve to death."

The MNR spokesman asked what legal position the council should be in if it ignored the Cabinet policy.

Evershad, using one of the maps that were part of the draft by-law, outlined the area he felt might be susceptible to flooding. He emphasized that the area represented only his opinion and not an engineer's report. While the original map showed only a thin strip paralleling the riverbed, Evershad's hazardous area included most of the core area of the community on both sides of the river stretching from the new library to the rise in land at Newcastle Street. The MNR planner also distributed photographs of floods which had occurred in Minden in showing various parts of the community underwater. The planner admitted that he wasn't sure if control of the watershed had not changed since the floods took place.

Pergolas suggested that the council carry on with the revision of the zoning by-law. "Let the Ministry of Natural Resources spend the money to prove we are wrong," he said. Pergolas said the council had, "nothing in writing, nothing official concerning the hazard land." He pointed out that the rezoning efforts were based

It was fresh corn on the cob and hot dogs Sunday as over 100 Minden and area residents marked Terry Fox Day with a picnic at the Community Centre. The gathering included a short run to commemorate the day. Although the event was not planned as a fund raiser, Reverend George Elliott, who organized the day, reports that $225 was raised and will be donated to the Canadian Cancer Fund. Participants are seen here lining up at the grill as Kinsmen dole out the goodies.

Leadership still open question for Eakins

Victoria - Haliburton MPP John Eakins has not ruled out the possibility of seeking the leadership of the Ontario Liberal Party. In an interview

Friday afternoon from his office in Lindsay, Eakins said he has left the question open for the moment.

"A number of years ago I considered the leadership seriously," he commented. "It takes an even greater commitment than that made by MPPs," he said noting that his present position has required a large number of sacrifices with regard to his family and personal life.

"At the moment I'm inclined to support someone else for the leadership of the party," Eakins said, "but I still haven't ruled it out for myself."

The MPP said he had been approached by a number of the members of the Liberal Party with regard to the leadership. Noting that the leadership convention would probably not be held until February 1982, Eakins said, "There is still time to think about it."

Eakins noted, "I had the pleasure of nominating Stuart Smith when he won the leadership of the party. He has given great service to the province during his term in office." Smith announced he was stepping down as party leader last week.

The MPP pointed out that two members of the Liberal Party had already expressed their intention to seek the leadership. "There is a lot of good material in the caucus," Eakins said the individual who takes over the reins of the party must be able to sell his image to the electorate as well as party policies.

The Liberal MPP suggested that this was a good time for Liberals. "The government has become domineering with the majority they now hold in the legislature," he commented. Eakins pointed out that some policies proposed by the Conservative government have received "scathing criticism," from the members of the government party. "The leadership of the Liberal Party is more important now than ever before," he commented.

Glamorgan Deputy Reeve Bob McCausland helps Victoria-Haliburton MP Bill Scott unfurl the Canadian flag the Ottawa representative presented to the township at the opening of the new community centre. The opening ceremonies took place Saturday afternoon. The new structure takes advantage of solar panels on the roof to assist with heating.

Len Lonsberry had the proof and the witnesses Wednesday evening when he returned to town with a 12 and a half pound, 40 inch muskie. Len was fishing with Al Conebeare, left, and Don Hall, right, when he caught the lunker at an "unknown lake" north of Minden.

By-law could be delayed

on the suggestions contained in the Haliburton County Planning Development Strategy.

Evershad responded, "I am the planner for this area. You have been told 'officially'. The municipality cannot hide from the facts." The MNR spokesman said his report will follow in several weeks in written form, to be 'official'. "I would be irresponsible if I did not bring these facts before you," he stated.

Evershad said it was not up to the ministry to prove the hazard existed. "We just have to show the Ontario Municipal Board that there is reasonable grounds to suspect the area would be subject to flooding." He said the ministry was asking the councillors to recognize the potential of the hazard and begin the process of defining what areas might be affected.

Despite the disturbing news from the MNR spokesman, the council agreed to continue with the updating of the rezoning by-law. The consultants agreed to prepare a report on the comments made by the planner, and an effort would be made to have the new by-law ready for presentation to the public sometime this fall.

The Timmins storm

The provincial government uses two storms by which to measure the potential from floods and damage in a particular area. The first is Hurricane Hazel and the second is what is called the "Timmins storm."

The latter reference is to a thunderstorm which struck the Timmins area in September 1961, causing the Mattagami River to overflow its banks.

The storm dumped 7.6 inches of rain on the community of Timmins in a 12 hour period. Five people, all of the same family, died in the storm and thousands of dollars damage was done adjacent to the river. According to reports, extensive social disruption, a term used to describe the temporary dislocation of residents, loss of property and communications, resulted from the storm.

According to studies, the Minden area could experience a storm of the Timmins severity, so it is the benchmark which the MNR planners use to indicate the level of protection needed.

Other townships face objections

The municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden is not the only jurisdiction in the county at the moment having to face the problems of hazard land in rewriting the zoning by-law.

In Lutterworth Township, provisions were initially made to exclude land which had been developed but which may have been close to potential sources of flooding, from the hazard zoning. The Ministry of Natural Resources objected.

Warren Evershad described the situation as misleading and arbitrary. He said there was a possibility that land owners might be led to believe that their land is not subject to flooding when in fact it might be. He indicated the ministry would be lodging a complaint when the by-law is presented for approval before the Ontario Municipal Board.

Lutterworth Reeve Ron Gambell said on Tuesday the zoning by-law which will be presented for approval will not contain any reference to environment protection areas or hazard zones. That by-law is expected to be passed Thursday evening.

The zoning by-law passed September 9 in the municipality of Sherborne, McClinck and Livingstone is also expected to draw an objection from the Ministry of Natural Resources.

According to the township's clerk, Dianne Griffin, a letter of objection was received from the ministry. However, she said the comments were "vague" and the council decided to proceed with the revision without making any changes. She said the council expects the ministry to appear before the Ontario Municipal Board hearing to object.

No date has been set for that hearing although the clerk hopes to submit all the documentation to the OMB by the beginning of next month.

Council backs limit

A petition seeking to impose a speed limit of six miles an hour on the Gull River has received the backing of the Anson, Hindon and Minden Township council. The matter was discussed at the September 9 meeting of the council.

Prepared and circulated by Don Davidson and Mrs. E. Smith of the Minden Pines resort, the document contained 135 names.

Davidson noted that speeding boats pose a hazard to swimmers in the river and other boaters, particularly those in crafts without motors. He also pointed out that heavy wakes thrown up by the speeding boats have caused erosion problems along the river.

According to Davidson, only three people who have riverside property refused to sign his petition. "Many of the residents were calling me when they heard about it," he told the council.

The request for the speed limit would extend from the Highway 35 bridge to the mouth of the river at Gull Lake.

Davidson was told that since the river flowed into another township he would probably require the endorsement of the Lutter-worth council and signatures from residents in that township as well. He said he had approached several residents of that municipality who reside along the river and they seemed to be in agreement with the petition.

The petition with council's endorsement will now be forwarded to the Ministry of Natural Resources and the Federal Department of Transportation for consideration.

Council wants terms fulfilled

A question of whether to accept a performance bond or hold a developer to his original agreement was raised at the September 9 meeting of Anson, Hindon and Minden Township council.

The council decided to inform the developer, John Burns, that it was unwilling to accept the performance bond and wanted him to stop selling lots in the subdivision and fulfill the terms of a subdivision agreement signed by him last year.

Under the agreement, the developer agreed to carry out a number of improvements to the area, including the paving of the road and installation of street lights after six lots had been sold and two building permits issued. According to the municipality, seven lots have now been sold in the subdivision and two permits issued.

Burns' application to the township asked that the municipality accept a performance bond in lieu of the completion of the terms at the moment.

Councillor Larry Cummins said the developer should be made to adhere to the terms of the agreement. "If he doesn't have the money to complete the work now, he should borrow the funds," Cummins stated. "Either the agreement stands or we could be inviting a lot of trouble," he commented. Cummins pointed out that the developer had already exceeded the terms of the agreement.

The councillors were also told the municipality might not have the authority to control the sale of lots in the subdivision. Councillor Lyle McKnight noted that the restriction was part of the subdivision agreement and if it was unenforceable it should be taken out. He noted that the people who purchase the lots in the subdivision are the real losers since the only control the council has is to restrict the issuing of building permits until the terms of the agreement are fulfilled. McKnight suggested that a performance bond might be one way for the municipality to ensure a developer carries out all the terms of an agreement in the future.

The council agreed to inform the developer that he was expected to meet the terms of the original agreement and that he could not sell any more lots until the improvements have been made.

Remember the saying "You don't have anything if you don't have your health". It's true.

Soggy roots

Members of the Anson, Hindon and Minden municipal council were placed in an awkward position last week when certain provisions of the new zoning by-law were challenged by a Ministry of Natural Resources planner Speaking for the provincial government, the planner told the council the new zoning regulations failed to recognize the possibility of flooding along the Gull River as it runs through the village of Minden. He claimed an engineering study, which could delay the zoning revision up to two years, would be needed to properly identify the potential flood area.

The council was not only upset at the possible delay in rewriting the zoning law but of the implications of identifying a large portion of Minden's core as hazard land that could be flooded.

Designating certain areas as hazard land means development would be severely restricted if not halted altogether.

One need not be an engineer to see that if the Gull River were to overflow its banks, the water would rapidly inundate a large portion of the downtown area as well as substantial residential sections. That fact is obvious to anyone who has stood on the Main Street bridge and looked about. The Minden council should be willing to accept that fact rather than railing against the obvious.

However, when it should dig in its heels, is at any attempt to limit development. Minden, like many communities in the province, was founded on the banks of a river. Those first settlers were aware of the inherent danger of flooding, but also realized the potential for serious destruction was limited.

A large portion of the community is located on the flood plain, that is a fact. But it is also a fact that Minden's business core and portion of the residential area is in place and has been for years. To freeze all development would not only severely cripple the future of the community, but would soon result in the rapid deterioration of the development which has taken place to date.

What is needed is a reasoned approach to the problem that recognizes that while flooding may be a real possibility it is not highly probable and that this community's roots have been sunk deep in this soil, soggy as it may be.

Tax upon a tax

by John Eakins MPP

With the summer season about to end it seems that the cost of energy is on the minds of many constituents.

The Ontario Government will obtain a massive revenue windfall at the expense of Ontario consumers as a result of the Ottawa-Alberta energy agreement. The Bill Davis government, which has paraded as the champion of cheap energy, will be one of the chief beneficiaries of the rapidly escalating gasoline prices consumers will face over the next five years.

Based on preliminary figures, it appears that Ontario will collect about 12 cents a litre from gasoline consumers by the end of 1986 through the pernicious ad valorem tax. In contrast, the benefit to the Government of Alberta will be only about 11 cents a litre at the conclusion of the term of the energy agreement.

All of the Liberal Party's criticism of the ad valorem gas tax has now been demonstrated as fully justified. The tax is a tax upon a tax which is one of the most evil ever levied on the consumers of this province. It will gouge Ontario's taxpayers in the order of $6.5 billion over the next six years, that being the total the treasury will receive from the existing tax plus the increases that will be added over the term of the energy agreement.

Premier Davis' welcome of the energy agreement and his apparent glee at the windfall which his government will receive from its ad valorem tax demonstrates his complete hypocrisy on the issue. Just two years ago, on September 15, 1979, the Premier described the energy agreement then expected between the Clark government and Alberta as "a clear raid upon the spending powers of the average citizen of this province." His own government is now embarked upon one of the biggest raids ever on the spending power of the average citizen of Ontario. On October 18, 1979, Mr. Davis said any move by the Clark government to raise gas prices by 23 cents a gallon "would be a wilful attack on the individual consumers and economy of Ontario." It is now Mr. Davis who has embarked on a wilful attack on Ontario's consumers.

Given the magnitude of the price increases Ontario consumers will face as a result of the energy agreement, it is the worst form of political cynicism for the Davis government to compound those increases.

An average night's travel for a songbird is several hundred kilometres, so when dawn approaches their first demand is food. Migrating songbirds in the fall are usually secretive in the daylight hours, sheltered in a wooded valley or cedar swamp. In my experience, the best way to find fall migrants is to listen for the chickadees, since small birds of many species seem to like daytime company at this time of year. A few gentle "swishes" will bring the chickadees closer, and with them might be two or three kinds of wood warblers, a vireo, and a kinglet or two.

Bird-watching in fall migration is so much of a challenge that even Roger Tory Peterson, the renowned birder and artist, was moved to title one of his identification pages "confusing fall warblers". But while their colours are more subdued than their spring brilliance, the songbirds of autumn are an entertaining diversion from the thoughts of the coming winter.

FROM THE CHAMBER

By Bob Stinson

At the last count we saw the events staged throughout the world in honour of Terry Fox had generated an almost 2 1/4 million dollars for cancer research, and figures were still coming in. It is amazing to think of the continuing effect Terry's efforts have created more than a year after he had to give up his personal marathon, and it is anticipated that this will continue in years to come.

Terry Fox, after such a few short years on this earth, has made a mark that few of us can hope to attain over a full lifetime. His courage and faith should be an example to all of us that no matter how overwhelming the odds seem to be stacked against our individual efforts, there is hope, and if we are committed enough to our goal, it is possible.

This example is significant when there are so many things that affect our lives—that appear beyond our control. Acid rain, interest rates, the energy crisis, all create major problems both now and in our futures, and we seem helpless to do anything about them, but we must because otherwise we are seen as apathetic. If we sit silently unconcerned, those who can exercise controls over some of these problems don't recognize that there is one.

Let us hope that Terry Fox's Marathon of Hope will not only result in successful research into cancer, but to awaken us all and provide us with the initiative and courage to make worthwhile things happen.

Chamber's promotional program

By now our members should all have their newsletter explaining the promotional program for 1982 and asking for your participation. Mr. Walter Thomas is assisting us with the advertising sales this year and we hope you will welcome him when he calls on you shortly. The winter accommodation guide deadline is being extended slightly - but only slightly, to allow everyone in that guide to be contacted and we are shooting for October 1 as a publication date on that particular piece.

It should be noted that non-members of the Chamber may purchase advertising in our directory, and Walter also has some membership application forms with him. If you therefore are not a member, and are interested in discussing this excellent method of promoting both your business and the Highlands, give us a call at the Chamber office, 286-1760 and we'll be out to see you.

Grading program

The new grading program initiated by Tourism Ontario last year is swinging into high gear this year. Properties that have been graded will now be identified in the ministry's accommodation guide with their appropriate number of stars.

Most resort operators, we believe, have attempted at least one seminar to become familiar with the program. We have however, had some enquiries requesting the Chamber to sponsor such a seminar. If there are enough wishing us to do so, we certainly will and would ask that anyone interested contact our office and make us aware of your wishes.

Thank you

Recently a full page advertisement sponsored by John Beachli said a big thank you to our summer residents and visitors for their patronage. We certainly echo those sentiments on behalf of our 325 members and sincerely hope that they all were "Treated Royally."

It is sometimes difficult in the heat of the busy season to show our appreciation as we should to our summer residents and visitors, but we should be making every effort to do so. In tourist regions of the U.S. you are thanked and encouraged to "have a good day" with every single dollar you spend. We don't thank these people enough.

C.O.T.A. meeting changed

The annual meeting for the Central Ontario Travel Association has had to be changed slightly due to some conflicting dates at the time previously announced. It will now be held on Thursday, October 15 at Wig-A-Mog Inn. This is three days after Thanksgiving and as we mentioned here earlier the presentation of the Peterborough-Haliburton Tourist region zone study will take a major portion of the day. Registration commences at 9:00 a.m.

Woodlot management seminar planned for October 3

One of the main objectives of proper woodlot management is the concentration of growth on the best trees.

Every forested acre has the potential to grow a certain amount of wood each year. In unmanaged woodlots this annual growth is spread over all trees; poor quality ones with little future value, as well as good quality trees with future sawlog or veneer log potential.

In the managed woodlot this annual growth is concentrated on the high quality, high potential trees by removing inferior stems. This removal operation usually referred to as "stand improvement", may or may not return an immediate profit to the landowner, depending on size, volume and species of trees to be removed and other considerations such as access to the property.

Which trees should be removed? When should they be removed? How is this best accomplished? These are some of the most common questions asked by the private woodlot owner.

The answers to these and other forestry questions may be obtained through the free advisory service offered to all private landowners by the Ontario Ministry of Natural Resources. Owners having a forest area suitable for management may wish to consider taking advantage of the Woodlands Improvement Act Program offered by the Ministry.

A forestry field day jointly sponsored by the Ontario Ministry of Natural Resources and the Canadian Forestry Institute will be held on a private forest tract just north of Haliburton on October 3. Permits issued for lots Anson, Hindon and Minden Township council has agreed to allow building permits to be issued for a number of lots north of Minden which will have access only over a private road. The approval was granted at the September 9 meeting.

One of the provisions of the township's zoning by-law is that any permanent residential development must front on a publicly maintained road.

The lots in question are just north of the Scotch Line Road at Highway 35. The lots front on the highway, but they do not have access to the highway. The only way property owners will be able to reach their land is by a road at the rear which will be jointly owned by the owners. The council agreed that if and when the road was brought up to municipal standards, the municipality would be willing to assume it.

Council's approval included the stipulation that a notice be placed on all the deeds indicating the situation with regard to the private road.

Other lots in the area, which do not front on the Highway but which do front on the private road will not be granted building permits until the road is assumed by the municipality.

Efforts to develop the land have been made since 1975. Previous efforts failed when the owners failed to accept responsibility for the private road or bring it up to municipal standards.

Latimer retires as Kilcoo director

John Latimer has announced his retirement as director of Kilcoo Camp south of Minden.

In a letter to campers, parents, and staff of the camp, Latimer said that he is stepping aside as director, a position he has held since 1956. John Latimer and his wife Peggy will remain associated with the camp as owners of the facility on Gull Lake. "We shall, happily, stay closely involved," the letter stated.

The new director of the camp will be Hal Hannaford while Scott Russell will take over as assistant director.

"I am retiring as director with pride, sadness and gratitude," Latimer stated. "Pride in the success which the camp has enjoyed, sadness in knowing that I will no longer be able to share my life so intimately with so many people, and gratitude for the thousands of young men who have given me the opportunity of realizing that life is meaningless unless it is being lived."

This past summer the camp marked its fiftieth anniversary, making it one of the longest running camps in the Highlands. Latimer's association with the camp goes back to 1938 when he started as a camper.

OPP urge hunting safety

The hunters of Ontario are probably the only people who are welcoming the cooler weather and longer nights. Put those two things together, add the trees changing color and you have the onset of hunting season.

The Ontario Provincial Police have a few ideas which could mean a more successful and enjoyable hunt this fall.

Guns and alcohol are a bad combination. So the real hunting enthusiast keeps the two apart. Some social activities are part of most camp life, but they should be kept until the hunting day is over. You have to be stone-cold sober to protect yourself in the bush.

Once you are off the beaten trail, the bush areas of Ontario become a hostile environment. Again the knowledgeable hunter has the advantage; he'll carry a map, a compass and a survival kit. If he loses his bearings, he stands a much better chance of getting back to camp.

One last tip. Anyone who is thinking of getting a new rifle or shotgun for the hunting season must have a firearms acquisition certificate. If you don't have one already, give yourself some time to go through this formality before your hunt. You can apply for the certificates at any police office and they are good for five years.

It's the successful hunts that are best remembered. It's also the hunting tragedies that are never forgotten. With forethought, good planning, and an awareness of what could go wrong, you have all the ingredients for a memorable hunting season.

If your car's out of shape you get rid of it, right? What if your body's out of shape?

Extra cost questioned

Members of the Anson, Hindon and Minden township council will meet with dragline operator Ron Bolender on the shores of Lake Kashagawigamog to discuss the job and cost overrun at a municipal access point near the former Hunter's Horn Resort. The matter was raised at the September 9 meeting of the council.

Bolender has applied to the Charges follow mishap

Charges of careless driving, driving a motor vehicle without a licence and not wearing a seat belt have been laid against a Rexdale man following an accident September 10.

David George, 20, was travelling north on Highway 519 in Snowdon Township when he failed to negotiate a curve and slid sideways across the road into the opposite ditch. His vehicle rolled over before coming to rest. Damage was estimated at $3000.

The accident was investigated by Constable Bob Wood.

New auditor hired

A new auditor has been hired by the Township of Anson, Hindon and Minden. The by-law endorsing the acceptance of Gary Thurston of Minden to serve as the municipality's auditor was passed at the September 9 meeting.

The council also agreed to send a letter to the previous auditing firm of McGilivray and Company to inform them of the reasons for hiring another auditor. No reason was made public for the change although the matter has apparently been discussed with the company representative.

Rosenburg takes tourney

A field of 25 golfers were on hand Sunday for the annual Minden Men's Recreational Hockey League golf tournament at the Beaverbrook course.

Ken Rosenburg added to his list of tournament wins, with a 76 score for 18 holes. Ken had rounds of 37 and 39 to take the trophy for the second year in a row.

Bob Nichol placed second with a 77 (39 and 38) while Doug Kirkhom was third with a 78 and Lee Bull placed fourth with a 79.

Dave Stevens led the low net with a score of 70 based on a gross of 81 and an 11 handicap. Ken Wilson was second with a 72, Bev-Billing and John Wilson were tied at 73.

Golfers are reminded of The Times Autumn Open planned for this Sunday at the Haliburton Highlands Golf Course on the south road at Lake Kashagawigamog. Entries for the tournament close this Thursday.

council for an amount over and above the original agreed price of $2500. The dragline operator is claiming the $640 extra because of the additional work he says was required to complete the contract.

Apparently, the Ministry of Natural Resources had required that he move the dredged material farther back from the shoreline than originally thought necessary.

Council appeared to be split on granting the contractor the extra amount. While several suggested that the municipality should give Bolender half of the amount he is requesting, other members of council felt he should be held to the original contract price. Deputy Reeve Doug Pritchard suggested the contractor should have cleared all aspects of the job with MNR before submitting the bid.

Before any decision is made, the councillors have agreed to meet with the contractor at the site of the project.

Seven days for theft

A Toronto man spent seven days in jail as a result of the theft of two highway signs. The man was sentenced September 8 in Lindsay.

Christopher A. Martin, 19, was sentenced to the jail term by Judge George Inrig who said the man's actions were more than just a prank. The judge said removal of the signs could have resulted in the death of an unsuspecting driver.

According to the officers who testified at the court hearing, Martin was seen driving along Highway 35 in the early morning hours of August 2. The police stopped the vehicles when they noted the posts sticking out of the rear of the vehicle.

The posts were part of signs advising drivers of a steep grade ahead and advising "Trucks use-low gear". The signs had been cut close to ground level. A hand saw was also found in Martin's car. The signs were valued at $56.

The matter was investigated by Constable Brian Dunham.

The Times mail contained a letter with change of address in it, here is a quote from this. "We just love it here in B.C. but miss some of our old friends in Carnarvon area" and this was from Claudia and Sidney Say.

Sincere sympathy goes to the families and friends of the late Bessey Sims and Kenneth Cockburn (a former resident) who passed away since last week.

Congratulations to Maxine and Oswald Snell who celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary by a dance and buffet supper at the Recreation Centre on Saturday evening and the large crowd of relatives and friends were all having a good time at this.

Nila Graham and Merle Barkwell of Huntsville visited one day last week with their mother Mrs. Taylor Kernohan.

Don't forget next Monday September 21 is Civic Holiday for many people in our County so plan things so you don't go shopping that day.

The Fred Hewitts of Scarborough spent the weekend with his mother Mrs. Ern Hewitt.

"Moving time" is over for the Minden Library with thanks to the local staff and County staff as well as the Minden Municipal workers. It was a big job, but now nearly everything is in place and the hours are the same, afternoons 3 - 5 and Tuesday, Thursday and Friday evenings as well from 7:30 - 8:30. Civic Holiday September 21 will be a holiday at the library.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Brown have been busy late this summer with three of their daughters having 25th wedding anniversaries: Mr. and Mrs. Jack King of Oshawa, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hoey of Stouffville and this past weekend they went to the party at Warkworth Community Centre for the 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Marshmen.

In friendship it's the little things
That mean the most of all;
The "Let me help you with that" things
That may seem very small.
The "I'll be glad to do it" things
That make your cares much lighter;
The "Laugh with me, it's funny" things
That make your outlook brighter.
The "Never mind the trouble" things,
The "Yes, I understand."
The interest and encouragement
In everything you've planned.
In friendship it's the little things
The friendly word of smile,
That add such happiness to

And make it more worthwhile

Hi! I hope nobody was blinded by that beautiful bright light called the 'sun', after almost 2 weeks straight of rain, it can be startling. There was one good thing about all the rain, at least we didn't have to shovel it.

There was a great turn out at the 'Terry Fox' picnic held on Sunday, with everyone enjoying themselves.

Mrs. Mary Oster and her son Lee are up to their cottage for the rest of the summer.

Marg Miller and her father Mr. Angus Coulter along with Dora Dawson went to Kirkfield for a day and visited in the area.

A golfer had lost his ball, and not unnaturally, was inclined to be annoyed with his caddie. "Why didn't you watch where it went?" he asked angrily. "Well, sir," said the boy, "it don't usually go anywhere, so it took me unprepared like".

Michlene Cruickshank from Shelburne with her girlfriends, Brenda Mahoney and Clare Kelling also from Shelburne were up visiting over the weekend.

Hint of the Week
Pewter - One of the best ways to clean pewter is to rub with cabbage leaves. Or, try a homemade mixture of wood ashes moistened with water.

Wisdom enables one to be thrifty without being stingy, and generous without being wasteful.

2566. Also on September 22 are Registrations, for Minden Nursery Play School which welcome all pre-schoolers from 2 1/2 and older and this is at St. Paul's Anglican Parish Hall at 8. Also that evening is Registration for Brownies and Guides and this is at the Municipal building, 7 - 8 p.m. Registration for Scouts, Cubs & Beavers at St. Paul's Anglican Church, 6:30 - 7:30 p.m. Friday, September 18.

We saw one of the Hockey Mothers with hockey sticks and we learned from her the Minden players will practise at Haliburton for 6 weeks so they will get in shape for the Hockey Season.

A little longer season for gardens this year, some little patches of colour in places but there will be more very shortly. The Minden Women's Institute hope to have a Fall Bus trip to Orillia on September 25 so keep that date in mind and Mrs. A. Kernohan will have tickets for this after the meeting on Wednesday, September 16, if plans are completed.

The village is a bit quieter but traffic is heavy on weekends. Cheerio until next time.

Labour Day weekend was rainy, but still the residents had many visitors. Monday was a day of relaxation after a busy weekend. Tuesday morning, our regular minister was not available. The service was taken by Doris Robertson. Agnes Taylor played the organ for the singing of some inspiring hymns.

After lunch several people gathered in the auditorium for a game of Bingo.

Wednesday morning everyone enjoyed the Fun and Fitness session. This week we had games of horseshoes, bowling and darts, as well as exercising our bodies to music.

Later in the afternoon a number of ladies made their way to the Craft-room to work on their projects. We will have a lovely variety of handmade items for the Christmas Bazaar which will be held on November 18.

Wednesday evening there was a really good turnout for games in the auditorium. Bob Penfold and his group of students were here to assist in crokinole, euchre and cribbage.

This event has become a night to look forward to thanks to all the volunteers who come out.

Thursday afternoon the ladies of the Baptist Church in Kinmount served a delicious variety of sandwiches, squares and tea breads for the afternoon tea party. As always everyone enjoyed their afternoon. A big thank you to these generous ladies for a lovely afternoon.

The Kinsmen were back with us for Bingo on Thursday evening. Everyone was very happy to welcome the Kinsmen back and will look forward to the weekly bingo games during the winter months.

Friday afternoon the sing song was held in the main lounge. Grace Coburn led the singing and we enjoyed the piano music played by Lucilla Clark.

On behalf of the residents I would like to thank all the volunteers who come to Hyland Crest faithfully to assist and bringing so much happiness to us all.

JEANETTE M. McKNIGHT, aged 75 years 3 months, 3 weeks and 3 days entered into rest at the Ross Memorial Hospital, Lindsay on Thursday, August 27, 1981. Beloved wife of the late Laurence McKnight and loving mother of Ruth (Mrs. Morris Stamp) of Haliburton, Lois (Mrs. Chesel Nesbitt) of Oshawa and Vera (Mrs. John Kernohan) of Minden and sons Lyle of Minden, Gary of Haliburton and Bradley of Minden. Daughters-in-law Linda (Mrs. Lyle McKnight), Darlene (Mrs. Gary McKnight) and Shirley (Mrs. Bradley McKnight). Son Loyne predeceased, 17 grandchildren and 16 great grandchildren. Mrs. McKnight was born May 3, 1906 and lived out her life in the Township of Anson, Hindon and Minden. Daughter of the late Edward and Ann Duncan and dear sister of Annie (Mrs. Pat Minaker) of Gelert, Ella, Tom Jack and Bill, pre-deceased. Dear sister-in-law of Mrs. Evelyn McKnight Smith of Lindsay and Vernie McKnight pre-deceased.

The beautiful floral tributes showed the esteem in which she was held by her many life long friends and neighbours. The service was conducted by Mr. Donald McPhaden in the Chapel of the Gordon A. Monk Funeral Home on August 29, 1981. Thence to Ingoldsby Cemetery for interment.

Pallbearers were grandsons of the deceased. Larry McKnight, Bryan Kernohan, Ronald Newbatt of Minden, Bill Stamp of Haliburton, Terry Nesbitt and Carlos Stamp of Oshawa.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our thanks and appreciation to our many relatives, friends and neighbours for all the kindness shown to us in the loss of our dear mother Jeanette McKnight. Our thanks to Dr. Karlinsky and staff of Minden Red Cross Hospital, Dr. Arnup, Dr. Manmohansingh and staff of Ross Memorial Hospital, Lindsay, to the ambulance drivers, Mr. John Hulbig and Mr. Richard Balas. Special thanks to Mr. Donald McPhaden for spiritual comfort and strength. Also to Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Emke of the Gordon A. Monk Funeral Home for their kind and efficient service.

The McKnight Family

THANKS to everyone who donated prizes and participated in the annual Men's Recreational Hockey League golf tournament this past Sunday. 9C

THANK YOU: The many people who enjoyed the Terry Fox community picnic would like to salute Rev. George Elliott for his efforts in organizing the event Sunday. The corn was delicious and we all enjoyed the fellowship. 9C

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone who was a part of the Terry Fox Picnic on Sunday. We were provided with a beautiful evening and it seemed to me that everyone was having a good time. After expenses, I will be donating over $225 to the Cancer Society, most of which came from your kind generosity and a donation of $70 from the residents and staff at Hyland Crest. There are some people and groups that I would like to thank individually. Thanks are due Brian Hamilton and the Kinsmen for all their help, Gary Stephenson who organized the run, Jack Brezina and The Times for all the publicity and the donation of a prize, the OPP for their co-operation, Home Hardware for the charcoal, Dollo's I.G.A. Home Pride Bakery for the food condiments, Marg Miller for the corn and all her help, Illa Cooper, Gladys Wruth, and Bette Joe Clayton for their help, Brian Sisson and the Recreation Committee for their co-operation, and finally to the Township of Lutterworth and Reeve Ron Gambell, the Township of Anson, Hindon and Minden and Reeve Lloyd Walker for all their support. Terry Fox Day was a great day for Canadians across this land, and I thank you all again for making our event such a success.

Fr. George Elliott

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to all those who came to our need during the recent death of Max. A special thanks to all those who brought food, sent flowers or made contributions to the heart fund. We would also like to mention how well all the arrangements and details were handled by Mr. and Mrs. Enke and staff of the Gordon Monk Funeral Home. In the absence of Gord and Donna, they did a fine job. A special thanks also to Rev. John Smith for a touching service and Mrs. Smith who accompanied on the piano. The ladies of the West Guilford Community Centre saved us a great deal of worry and work by preparing a lovely luncheon following the funeral service. We would like to thank each and everyone who donated to or served at that luncheon. And to all the family and friends who sent cards, phoned or were simply there, again thank you for caring. Sincerely, Lois Brice and family.
